ABSTRACT

This session will focus on some of the work CILASS (the Centre for Inquiry-based Learning in the Arts and Social Sciences) has engaged in over the past five years, calling on data from projects, evaluations, and stories from the team and CILASS' highly successful Student Ambassador Network. The session is aimed to be very much interactive, allowing everybody to ask questions and discuss ideas on an on-going basis.

The seminar series is open to all members of staff and students of CITY and to any externals that wish to attend.
